

Growing Data

Where data meets potential

What is data? It's simply numbers – an endless series of 0s and 1s. But behind those numbers lie unprecedented competitive advantages just waiting to be found.

As a partner on your data journey, we'll take you from reactive and wondering 'what happened', to seizing opportunities and knowing exactly how to make it happen. The secret to business longevity lies in your numbers. Let's find it.

Case Study

Growing Data is a key technology partner to the ANZ Institutional Data Team. Growing Data's ability to read the technology landscape and advise on technology selection and implementation has been invaluable. With Growing Data's support, the Institutional Data Team has achieved many firsts for the bank including the launch of ANZ's first public facing applications using the Google Cloud Platform.

From a technology perspective Growing Data's contributions have helped us develop a versatile, scalable and secure platform leveraging Infrastructure as Code, Kubernetes, Big Query and PostgreSQL, whilst always being cognisant of the governance requirements our industry demands.

Helping you to see the future clearly

We'll illuminate your journey on a considered pathway to the future, reducing uncertainty, and keeping you agile and adaptable to change.
